Understanding H1N1 Risks in the Transportation Sector

Regional Train-the-Trainer Host Form

NTI in collaboration with FTA is scheduling a series of half-day regional train-the-trainer sessions for a new course, Understanding H1N1 Risks in the Transportation Sector. This course was developed with funding from the Department of Homeland Security's Science and Technology Directorate through the National Transportation Security Center of Excellence. Participants will receive a package including presentation materials and resources for delivery of a two-hour employee awareness program.

Agencies interested in hosting a regional session should complete this form and email it to Fran Conti at fconti@rutgers.edu or fax the form to 732.932.1707. Host agencies need to provide a training room with a minimum capacity of 50 and audio/visual equipment (screen, data projector and two flipcharts). Host agencies are allotted ten seats in the course. Host requests should be submitted as soon as possible.
